NOTES:- The Death Rate for Machynlleth Urban Area continues to rise as shown:- 1935 16.2 per 1,000 population;
1936 17.48 " " ;
1937 19.16 " " .

This conforms with the general upward trend of the Death Rate for the whole of England and Wales, viz.,

1935 11.7 per 1,000 population;
1936 12.1 " " ;
1937 12.4 " " ,

and may be explained by the fact that the average age of the population is gradually increasing, with a consequent increase in liability of death among old people. Out of a total of 37 deaths in Machynlleth Urban Area in 1937, 13 died after attaining their 70th birthday, - 20 after their 60th birthday.

A satisfactory feature of the report is the fact that the Birth Rate has also increased from the abnormally low figure of 9.28 per 1,000 in 1936 to 15.88 per 1,000 population in 1937,- a figure which, it will be seen, is higher than the average of 14.9 per 1,000 for the whole of England and Wales.

The apparent enormous rise in the still-birth rate (1.60 per 1,000 population against 0.54 in 1936) must not be taken too literally, as this high figure represents 3 still births out of a total birth (live and still) of 32, whereas in 1936 there was 1 still birth out of a total birth (live and still) of 19.

Heart Disease continues as the "Captain of the Men of Death" in the Machynlleth Urban Area, accounting for 10 deaths out of a total of 35 and giving a death rate per 1,000 population of 5.4, the same as in 1936. This figure is twice as great as the next highest on the list, namely the Kidney Diseases and Influenza, each with 5 deaths out of 35.
